DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated over Orban et al. (US 5448227).

Regarding claims 1 and 7, Orban, who teaches a method and apparatus for making near-bit measurements-while-drilling (MWD), expressively discloses a pressure pulser comprising: a first rotatable body 14 (motor assembly) in fluid communication with a flowing fluid; a second body 30 (shaft) coupled to said first body 14 (col. 8, line 62-col. 9, line 14). Orban discloses an electro-active fluid (mud) that flows to the turbine 26 to generate electrical power to the system (col. 8, lines 8-10). Additionally, Orban discloses a means of applying a field by way of an electromagnetic coil (col. 8, lines 48-61).

Regarding claims 2 and 10, Orban discloses the pulser wherein said first body is a mud motor 14 (col. 3, lines 29-35).

Regarding claims 3 and 11, Orban disclose the pulser wherein said second body comprises a shaft 30 and said means for applying a field includes an electromagnetic coil (col. 8, lines 49-67 and col. 10, lines 21-24).

Regarding claims 4 and 12, Orban discloses the rotor as circulating (rotating) within the motor assembly 14 (col. 6, lines 58-64). Orban inherently discloses the rotor as circulating the electro-active fluid as flowing through a flow line.

Regarding claims 5 and 13, Orban discloses the pulser comprising a field-generating valve disposed on the flow-line, wherein said valve has a blocked position where a field is applied to the flow-line (col. 8, lines 1-17).

Regarding claim 6, Orban discloses the pulser wherein the pulser is integrated into a drill string 9 (col. 6, lines 51-67).

Regarding claim 8, Orban discloses the field is applied by applying a current to an electromagnetic coil (col. 8, lines 48-54).

Regarding claim 9, Orban discloses the field is applied by a magnetic circuit (col.23, lines 12-15).

Regarding claim 14, Orban discloses the first and second bodies 14 and 30 (respectively) are integrated into a drill string 9 (col. 6, lines 51-68 and Figs. 1 and 3A).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 15-24 are allowed, because prior art of record does not expressively disclose the following limitations of independent claims 15 and 16: a magnet proximate to said chamber of electro-active fluid and switchable between first and second states so as to apply a field to the electro-active fluid in the first state and not apply a field to the electro-active fluid in the second state. Dependent claims 17-24 are allowable by default of being dependent upon an allowable claim.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

- α Bannister (US 3227228) discloses a bore-hole drilling apparatus that utilizes a pressure pulser that utilizes the fluid as a means to communicate via the flowline.
- α Tubel et al. (US 6021095) discloses a method of remote controlling of a well-bore end device via communications of an electro-active fluid (water) of a pressure pulser.
- α Juergens et al. (US 5294923) discloses a method an apparatus for relaying down-hole data to the surface.
